

SCULPTOR BORGLUM ROLLED

He Meets This Novel Experience in Truckee Yesterday

It is a matter of history that a good many people have been "rolled" in the mountain town of Truckee. Yesterday morning Borglum the sculptor got most beautifully rolled and there is a broad grin all over town.

It happened that Borglum and Controller Davis were in Truckee where Borglum stopped to make a call on Miss McGlashan, the California sculptress a sister artist. Then the trains got snow bound and the pair stopped at McGlashan's house over night to partake of the McGlashan hospitality which is famed throughout the section.

In the morning there was a snow drift reaching from the high stone wall of the porch several hundred yards down the hill running at an angle of forty five degrees. McGlashan has a number of pretty daughters seven or eight, more or less, and these girls can hold their own in out door sports with any one. There was a crust on the snow under the lee of the porch and they simply slid Borglum's valises out on to the crust and threw Borglum after them. Then the whole party started down the hill until they hit the spot where the crust had been in the sun and like a flash they all disappeared. Borglum went out of sight in fifteen feet of snow and about half the McGlashan family landed on top.

The valises slid off in another direction and one went smashing into a window and landed in the midst of a family eating their breakfast.

Then Mrs. McGlashan phoned down town and started a gang of men to the scene with ropes and log-hooks and they fished the party out.

Borglum was at the bottom of the hole and nearly dead when the ropes and hooks reached him. He was then packed to the train and placed on board just in time to start him for New York.

It cost him five dollars to settle with the man whose window the gipsack went through. This is Borglum's first experience with being "rolled" in the Sierras and he said he was coming back next winter for more of it.

Heavy Deal at Manhattan

D. W. Perry and Henry McCornick of Salt Lake have purchased a controlling interest in the Manhattan Gold Mining company, owning the famous Stray Dog claim. They have also obtained possession of the Mayflower, adjoining the Annie Laurie and big producers on Gold Hill, and the Indian Camp claim, lying at the end of the producing belt on the south side of Manhattan canyon. This is the heaviest deal yet made in Manhattan and is bound to aid the boom in prices. Definite figures cannot be obtained, but the price is said to be over $200,000.

A Correction

An item has been going the rounds of the state papers to the effect that the tax levy for Washoe county for this year had been fixed at $2.50. Assessor Beard of Washoe county, informs the Appeal that the levy fixed is only $1.42 a reduction of 8 cents from the rate of last year. The levy for the city of Reno is $2.50.

Slightly in Error

Yesterday's Reno Journal quotes Original Tonopah at 18 cents and Tonopah Extension at 12 cents. The storm of the past few days must have had a bad effect on the riverside scribes.

First Advance

A bid of 18 cents for Manhattan-Carson was made on the stock board yesterday. This is the first raise in this stock, the control of which is held by local parties.

No Western Mail

Owing to the snow storm of the past few days the main line is blocked and no western mail was received yesterday.

Down With Pneumonia

Bert Harris, well known in this city, is quite ill with pneumonia at his home in Virginia city.

A meeting of the Silver Party State Central Committee will be held at Reno on March 31, at 1 p. m. at the office of the Nevada Observer.

An assessment of ten cents per share was levied yesterday on Challenge mining company stock and one of five cents per share on that of the Utah company.

ATTEMPTED BROTHERS LIFE

Family Quarrel May End in Death of Young Man

Lloyd Benoist was brought here yesterday afternoon from Pyramid Lake with part of his face and head shot away. He was accompanied by his wife and was taken to the Sierra Hospital, where Dr. Walker operated on the injured man.

No details of the accident were obtainable at the hospital, except that the man, had been accidentally shot by his sister, who lives with Benoist and his wife at Pyramid.

Mrs. Benoist was nearly hysterical when she came, and the story gained currency from others who come from that section that the shooting was not accidental.

It was stated that there were eye witnesses to the affair and the story of the shooting is the story of a family quarrel, in which the wife and sister-in-law quarreled; the husband upbraided his own sister, and is alleged to have struck her. Then the sister took a shotgun and fired one barrel at Mrs. Benoist, which missed and the other at Lloyd Benoist which did not miss but which may cost the young man his life.

It seems that the relations between the three have not been pleasant of late, and that the affair culminated yesterday when it is alleged, after a quarrel Miss Benoist called her sister-in-law a vile name.

Mrs. Benoist then told her husband about the matter, and it is alleged, the latter struck her sister.

She was knocked down and on regaining her feet, it is declared, she told her brother that "that ends the quarrel," and then she went away. Lloyd thought she was going to go about her housework and so left her.

He had just climbed into a hay wagon and was driving away when the sister reappeared and fired. The aim was true, and Benoist tumbled from the wagon. With difficulty the horses were stopped before he was run over, and then Mrs. Benoist got help and came to Reno with her badly injured husband.

Whether a charge will be preferred by Mrs. Benoist remains to be seen, but the fact that the shooting was not accidental is declared to have been confirmed by Mrs. Benoist, who before arriving in Reno made some hysterical statements to that effect which subsequent rumors from Pyramid tend to confirm.—Journal.

Returned From the Coast

Controller Davis was an arrival from San Francisco yesterday afternoon. He was delayed 36 hours on account of the heavy snow in the mountains.

Heaviest Fall in Years

Thirty-two feet of snow is recorded as the fall in the high Sierras. This is far in excess of any fall that has been noted in a great many years.

ELY GETTING THERE

Mining Deals Transacted Amount to Over Half Million

ELY, March 15.—The past days have been characterized by several large deals being closed at this place aggregating over half a million dollars. The celebrated Chairman mine, one of the largest in Eastern Nevada, was taken over by the Nevada Consolidated Copper Company, the sale including the $150,000 quartz mill that was recently erected. This mill will be dismantled and the machinery used in the concentrating plant being erected near Ely. The claims will be mined for copper instead of gold.

A. G. McCord and J. R. Thompson have disclosed a deal for the Comins and Shellenbarger ranches and all their water rights on Stephens creek. The sum of $105,000 was paid for the property. Twice that sum will be spent immediately on a water system for the town of Ely and for a large electric plant and irrigation system. J. A. Magnuson, an old prospector yesterday sold his copper claims adjoining the Giroux group for $40,000 to Philadelphia people.

NEW COMPANY FORMED

To Develop Mines in Washoe County Nevada

OGDEN, March 15.—The Ogden Leasing & Development company formed to take over certain mining claims in the Galena mining district, Washoe county Nev., filed its articles of incorporation with the secretary of the state yesterday. The company has a capital stock of $10,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each. The directors of the company are Charles H. Hussey, Parley M. Parry, Francis L. Wood, John J. Schwartz and Sanford L. Ives.

For Further Safety

The new vault in the State Bank and Trust company's building will be amply safeguarded for, in addition to the latest pattern of burglar alarm, the directors have ordered seven tons of broad steel belting from the Virginia City mines which will be placed in the concrete work surrounding the safe proper.

The belt will be 2000 feet in length. The first installment arrived yesterday and is being arranged at the site of the vault.

Nelson Gets Decision

The fight between Battling Nilson and Terry McGovern at Philadelphia last night was fast and furious, Nelson having the best end at the close of six rounds.

Found Dead

A man who went by the name of W. B. Hume, but whose real name is said to be Duncan was found dead in a lodging house at Tonopah Friday.

FLORENCE ROBERTS

Will Be Seen Here in Her New Play on the 20th Inst.

Quite the most important theatrical event of local interest concerns the engagement of Florence Roberts the clever emotional star who comes to the Opera House on March 20, 1906 in the leading role of "The Strength of the Weak," a new modern play in four acts by Alice M. Smith. Contrary to the policy pursued by Miss Roberts in former years when she interpreted such roles as "Zara," "Tess," "Magda," etc. She begins this season a new regina of her career, which provides for a new play each season for the next five years. In "The Strength of the Weak," Miss Roberts is said to have an excellent play and a part admirably suited to her ability as an emotional actress. The action of the play occurs in and near New York City, the first act showing a woman's college on graduation day. The story concerns a young orphan whose education has been provided by her guardian. She has written a book, published anonymously, which reflects certain phases of her life and narrates her relations with the unscrupulous guardian. The latter's son becomes an ardent suitor for the young woman's hand, although she is not aware of his relationship with her guardian. The complications arise when the authorship of the book is disclosed and continues through splendid dramatic situations to a perfectly natural denouement. The characters have been drawn with bold, broad strokes and represent types of people who are real rather than those of theatrical creation. The scenes occur at a Woman's College, a Hunt Club ball in a fashionable Long Island residence and the apartments of the heroine in New York, all providing excellent locales for the many strong situations.

Carsonites Sell Mine

U. S. Attorney Sam Platt, Charlie and Harford Southworth and J. B. Ross of Beatty, yesterday sold their Confidence mining claim at Bullfrog for $20,000 and a large block of stock in a company formed to work several consolidated mining claims on the east side of Montgomery mountain. The sale was made to Tonopah capitalists. It is believed that the group of mines taken over by the new company are of the most valuable in the Bullfrog country. They are situated on the same hill with the famous Montgomery-Shoshone mine and will be immediately developed.

Work Stopped

All construction work on the Western Pacific has been brought to a stop in this state on account of the fierce storm of the past few days.

Not a shovelful of earth is being turned, no ties are laid and absolute quiet reigns along the line of the proposed road because of the vigor of the wind and the immense fall of snow.

It is likely that their work will be greatly increased when they do resume on account of the snow which has choked up the gorges, and if a spell of freezing weather comes the difficulties will be greatly increased.

Passing of Pioneer Dayton Resident

Charles Norris, a resident of Lyon county since pioneer days, died in Dayton last night. He followed prospecting and mining for many years. He was a native of Kentucky and leaves no relatives in this State. The funeral will take place tomorrow under the direction of undertaker Kuhn.—Chronicle.

A Fire at Reno

A fire in Reno at 1:30 yesterday morning wiped out a building on Virginia street opposite Grey Reid and Wrights store. The premises were owned by P. Saturno, and the lower floor occupied as a saloon by Avanzino and Paganini. The loss is estimated at several thousands on which there is a partial insurance.

The Peerless Peaks

The famous "Peak Family," will give one of their unique and enjoyable entertainments in the Lecture room of the Presbyterian Church this evening. Do not fail to attend. Admission only ten cents.

Outlook Prosperous

One million of the appropriation for Nevada irrigation work will be distributed in Churchill county this current year and the Herald predicts a prosperous year for that region.

Wm. Richford of Gardnerville was a visitor yesterday.
